Julianne Elina Nalty has arrived! On Monday, July 24th, we had another appointment with our doctor. She expressed some concerns with the placenta and the baby's breathing rhythm, and after having an ultrasound, she sent us straight to the hospital at 2:00 pm to be induced! It was nothing too serious, but the doctor wanted to be safe. We were super excited, and of course a little nervous, because we had no idea that when we left for the clinic that day, we would end up in the hospital anticipating our baby girl! We cannot even begin to explain how very obvious it was to us that people had been praying, and were currently doing so. Even before Celina received the medication to be induced, she started having contractions, and she did not even feel them! The nurse was very surprised she felt nothing, as those contractions lasted around 6 hours. In all, Celina only had 3 hours of intense pain, but everything else did not even feel like labor! We praise the Lord that at 6:25 am on Tuesday, July 25th, Julianne was safely in Celina's arms. We have witnessed firsthand the beautiful creation of God of mankind, and we are so thankful to the Lord for entrusting us with a daughter to nurture and raise in the admonition of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Celina and Julianne are doing great, and they even got to be in church on Wednesday! Please fervently pray with us that she would be saved at a young age and grow up to serve and love the Lord with all of her heart, soul, mind, and strength! We are so excited that Julianne is going to get to be a little missionary as part of our family- we have already been talking to her about Mozambique and all that the Lord wants to do there! We are eagerly waiting for her birth certificate and social security card to come in in order to start her passport process. These two documents alone could take several weeks, and the passport could take several months. On top of that, the actual visa process cannot be started till these 3 arrive. Please pray for FAST paperwork- we know however that the length of this process is entirely in God's hands, and His timing is always best! That being said, we are thrilled to announce that we are now at 90% seen, 100% promised! Praise the Lord!!! As we wait for the paperwork, we will still be presenting in churches raising additional funds/support for the ministry. Please pray that we can be a blessing to these churches and that we will do His will.

Also, just several days before Julianne's birth, we were able to be a part of a VBS at one of our supporting churches here in MN- what a blessing! Luke had the privilege of sharing a lesson with the kids each night, and there were several who received Christ as their Savior! Pray for these kids to get Scripturally baptized, to grow in the Lord, and for their parents to believe on Christ as their Savior if they have not and come to church there faithfully. My neighbor is not saved and found he has an aneurism; also, his daughter just got in an accident. Pray for her health, his salvation, any unsaved family. God allowed me to talk to a young man named Cade. He listened as the gospel was shared and received literature to read. Pray for Cade to understand his personal need of salvation and that he would come to Christ with repentance and believe the gospel (Mk. 1:15). And, pray for us to be immediately and joyfully obedient to Christ doing His will faithfully! Salvation of lost souls including Cade, neighbor/family, Oz, Ashley, Joe, Gladis, Oscar, and Brennan's girlfriend/family Scriptural baptism and spiritual growth of new believers

Celina's sister Brooklyn as she goes back to Honduras to do mission work
More teachers to work in Celina's parents' ministry (knowing Spanish is not required)
